PLANS OUTLINED TO GUARD U. S. COASTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The new program for coast defense has been completed by the war department. It calls for an expenditure of one hundred million dollars during the next four or five years. The chief features of the program are 15-inch guns, 16-inch guns, all new fortifications, an ammunition reserve of as many rounds as each gun will stand, a supply of huge 16-inch semi-mobile howitzers designed for use as mobile artillery, and 20 anti-aircraft guns.

The immediate mounting of the entire reserve of 12-inch guns to guard the coast until the 15-inch gun can be built, is contemplated. New fortifications are planned for New York and Cape Henry. The program has been laid before the house appropriations committee which will frame the bill.

DEMANDS U. S. ATTY. BE OUSTED.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Representative Buchanan, of Illinois, today demanded the impeachment of U. S. District Attorney Marshall of New York, who has been investigating the German bomb plots. He charges that Marshall persecuted innocent men and corruptly refused to prosecute the plots. Buchanan was formerly president of the Labor Peace Council, which has been under investigation. Buchanan's charges were referred to the judiciary committee.

INTEND TO PURSUE ALLIES TO SEA.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—The Teutons and Bulgars have sworn notice on Greece that they intend to pursue the Anglo-French forces to the sea unless the Allies are disarmed by Greece.

According to Rome dispatches today, Germany and Bulgaria disavow responsibility for damage done in fighting on Greek soil. The Allies have been pushed back across the border and Greece must now show its hand.

GREEK PORTS BLOCKADED.

ATHENS, Dec. 14.—A commercial blockade of Greece has again been established by the government of the Allies. The Greek government will demand an explanation of the action in view of the concessions granted to the Allies' troops.

REP. CONVENTION DATE NAMED.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The Republican national convention will be held June 7, probably at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—Three were burned to death and many injured by fire in a rooming house at 55 East Grand avenue this morning. There were no fire escapes on the building. The dead are Edward Barry, a teamster, and his wife, and Aaron Barabara, an employee of the Sherman hotel.

GERMANY QUERIES GREECE.

ATHENS, Dec. 14.—Germany has asked if the new law of Greece will not compromise Greek neutrality.

A GASOLINE FAMINE IS NOW THREATENED

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—America is face to face with a gasoline famine. The shortage is due to the falling off in the production of crude oil and the increasing use of automobiles and trucks. The consumption this year was 1,200,000 barrels against 1,000,000 barrels last year, besides the millions of barrels shipped to the war zone. The burden of increased prices will fall heaviest on motorists.

MONTENEGRINS FORCED TO RETREAT.

BERLIN, Dec. 14.—The Montenegro forces opposing the Austrians have been forced to retreat southwest of Plehva, according to the war office. Twenty-five hundred Montenegro were captured.

FRENCH COMPLETELY ROUTED.

HEED THE CRY

Save for Bye and Bye

No call is so insistent as the one to "save." It echoes down through the ages. To disregard it is to dispute the laws of common sense.

Compare the large surplus and profits of this bank with its capital and you have the logical reason for its high standing among depositors who are heeding the insistent cry "Save for bye-and-bye."

SERBIAN FARMER'S PREDICTION MAY BE ONE OF VAST TRUTH

ALL OF HIS SAYINGS ABOUT
SERBIA EXCEPT FALL OF RUL-ING HOUSE ALREADY TRANS-PIRES.

VIENNA, Dec. 14.—Every man, woman and child south of the Save knows the history and "dark prophecies" of Matthanus Petrovic, a farmer of Kuma, near Usice. These prophecies were first published in 1862 and reprinted in 1903 by the French writer Andre Barre in his book "Le Tragedie Serbe", (The Serbian Tragedy).

Matthaeus Petrovic, who was considered a lunatic by some of his neighbors and a very wise man by others, was selling cattle on the market place at Usice on June 12, 1868. Suddenly he fell into a trance. Raising his arms and pointing to the north he shouted: "Woe be to us! Assassins are murdering our great, beloved prince! Curse on the miserable criminals! Their knives and sabers are cutting the body of our prince to pieces! Woe! Woe! The prince is dead!"

The shouts of the old farmer threw the multitude on the square into a panic and several policemen grabbed him to carry him before a magistrate. A few hours later a dispatch from Belgrade brought the news of the murder of Prince Michael Obrenovic III. in the park of Toply. The farmer was arrested as a supposed conspirator, but quickly proved his innocence. After his discharge the seer was taken to Belgrade and questioned by high officials. During his examination he fell into a trance again and said:

"I see our new prince wearing the crown of a king, but he is an unhappy man and will die young, far from his wife and his child, after losing his throne. He will be followed by his son, who will die very young. Before his death this young king will talk through the air from Nish and Pirot to Belgrade. He will be the last one of his family."

"After his death Serbia will be ruled by another family for a short time, but without luck. Great battles will be fought and the country will run blood. Strangers will take possession of our land and those still living will envy the dead. These dark days shall pass however, and finally Serbia will rise to new glory and happiness."

This prophecy has almost entirely become true. The farmer predicted the conquest of Pirot and Nish by the Serbians, the elevation of Serbia to the rank of a kingdom, the abdication and early death of former King Milan, the invention of the telephone, the murder of the youthful King Alexander, the rule of the house Karageorgievitch, the Balkan war and the World war. Only the fall of the Karageorgievitch family and the reconstruction of Serbia have not yet become facts.

The Alternative.

Art Editor—"I'm afraid your work is too comic for general illustrating." Artist—"I suppose that means I will have to spend the rest of my life doing comic supplements." "Not necessarily. You might design woman's fashions."—Life.

Mexico's Resources.

With its remarkable variation of climatic zones and great wealth and variety of vegetation, it might have been supposed that agriculture, not mining, would have been the great mainstay of Mexico. But the fame of silver has overshadowed that of wine and corn and oil.

Striving Always Counts.

Did you ever hear of a man who had striven all his life faithfully and singly toward an object and in no measure obtained it? If a man constantly aspires he is not elevated?—Thoreau.

No Indians in 100 Years.

The American full-blooded Indian, of course, will not be extinct within the life of any person now living, but it will not be more than a century when the original American will have passed off this continent. There are enough Indians left on the reservations to keep up the full-blood line for 100 years, but tuberculosis and the change of environment have done their work, until now there are comparatively few full-bloods left on any of the reservations.

Friendship.

It is an inestimable blessing for any man or woman to possess a friend; one human soul in whom complete confidence may be reposed; one who knows the best and worst of us, and who loves us in spite of all our faults; who will speak the honest truth to us while the world flatters us to our face and laughs at us behind our backs; who will give us counsel and reproof in the day of prosperity and self-conceit, but who, again, will comfort and encourage us in the day of difficulty and sorrow, when the world leaves us alone to fight out our own battle.

The Right Side of Serge.

When determining the right side of serge or any other goods in which there are diagonal lines in the weave these lines should run from the upper right-hand corner to the lower left-hand corner on the right side.

Not Altogether His Fault.

Eddie had traded a nice pocket knife for a forlorn-looking dog, minus his tail. His father teasingly reminded him that he got the worst of the bargain, as the dog had no tail. Ed sobbingly answered "Well, daddy, he was sittin' down when I traded."

Chance for Hunters.

A peculiar feature of Borneo is that it is practically an immense game preserve. The white inhabitants are government officials, planters and business men, and have neither time nor inclination to do any hunting. The result is that the game with which the country abounds is rarely disturbed. Elephants and rhinoceroses are so plentiful that they are a nuisance to rubber and coconut estates by destroying young trees.

Self-Control.

Room should be reserved in the hall of fame for the motorist who, when stung on the nose by a bee, brought his machine to a stop before swatting the insect.—Chicago Daily News.

Time's Changes.

When they are first married she wonders why there isn't a Brass Band and a delegation of Prominent Citizens to greet him at every street corner. But a few years later she wonders how he manages to dodge the dogcatcher when he is on the street.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Race Characteristics.

The Jew has little feeling for the particular. He loves man rather than men, and from Isaiah to Karl Marx he holds the record on projects of social amelioration. The Jew loves without romance and fights without hatred. He is loyal to his purposes rather than to persons.—Exchange.

Skunk's Pelt Valuable.

The pelt of the skunk is of great value, and makes the bearer second in importance among the fur-bearing animals of this country, the muskrat being first. The worth of the skins has long been recognized commercially, but prejudice has prevented the sale of them for what they were. For many years nearly all the product was exported for European manufacture, and a great deal of it returned to this country as "black marten" and "Alaskan sable."

A Wish For the Holiday Season

THINE own wish wish I thee in every place.
The Christmas joy, the song, the feast, the cheer;
Thine be the light of love in every face
That looks on thee to bless thy coming year.
My own wish wish I thee—what dost thou crave?
All thy dear hopes be thine, whatever they be.
A wish fulfilled may make thee king or slave.
I wish thee wisdom's eyes wherewith to see.
Behold, she stands and waits, the youthful year!
A breeze of morning breathes about her brows;
She holds the storm and sunshine, bliss and fear.
Blossoms and fruit upon the bending boughs.
She brings thee gifts. What blessing wilt thou choose?
Life's crown of good in earth or heaven above?
The one immortal joy thou canst not lose
Is love! Leave all the rest and choose thou love.
—Celia Thaxter.

THE DANGER FREE TREE.

How Electricity Provides the Sparkling Cheer Without Risk of Fire.

Nearly every 26th day of December we read in the morning papers the pathetic stories of Christmas play that ends in tragedy. It is the annual toll of the Christmas tree candle. Every city has dozens of such cases each year. The candle flame sets fire to the tinsel trimming, a curtain blazes up, and the day of festivity ends in sorrow or some member of the family is badly burned.

The little electric tree lights are decorative and pleasing to children, and they are safe and convenient. Tiny lamps, fruits, roses, dogs, birds, snow men and grotesque little figures are all strung together on fine, silk covered wire and may be readily connected to any lamp socket behind the tree.

The little lamps sparkle and glow. They are the most effective Christmas tree ornaments ever devised, and there is far more fun for the kiddies, because the lamps can burn as long as they are wanted. They do not have to be watched, and the little lamps can be used year after year. They are suitable for any festivity and add gaiety to every gathering of children.

An Austrian Christmas Delicacy.
The Austrian affects at Christmas time a delicacy known as fruchtbrot, made of raisins, currants, figs and chopped dates. This constitutes a sort of cake, baked hot.

ALTHOUGH we live in Gungy-wamp,

Which isn't on the map,
An', though our town hez settled down

To take its winter nap,
Our thoughts go out to friends afar,
Friends north, south, east an' west,
We hope an' pray this Christmas day
Will be their happiest.

We live here quiet on the farm,
Irene an' ma an' me;
We have two pens uv noisy hens
An' cats, no less'n three!
We raise our garden sass an' sich,
Make cider ev'ry fall;
Wish we could git a cask uv it
Out to you, one an' all.

We ain't no hands fur style an' sich,
But we jest wanten say
We'll use you white by day or night

If you should come our way,
Accept this greetin', which is full
Uv good ol' Gungy cheer,
An' peace, good will an' joy until
We see you all next year!

Christmas Frolics For the Children

A CLEVER little entertainment was given on a recent Christmas by a number of young girls and boys. These girls and boys represented wax works of all the children of the nursery. There were Old Mother Goose, Red Riding Hood, Bo Peep, Little Boy Blue and all of the children imaginable from nurseryland. They were dressed in costumes to suit the character, each labeled with his or her own title. Of course the children had to stand as erect and as immovable as wax works, and, while some laughable incidents occurred, they did not dare smile.

Some one played a lively song to awaken Sleeping Beauty from her Christmas dream, and when she came out on the stage in her white gown to get her Christmas presents she was confronted by the whole nursery family in wax works. She talked to them, but they were very immovable and unapproachable, so she sat down in their midst and cried, for it was a very lonely Christmas. A fairy then appeared and said she would make the dolls talk and play with her, so she went around and passed her magic wand before each girl and boy, and immediately they began to jerk their arms, legs and heads stiffly. Before the music ceased they all joined hands and were singing and dancing. The pretty effect of this entertainment is produced by the children acting very much like unjointed statuary.

This entertainment can be made very beautiful and attractive with merry songs and dancing. The children should wear crape paper or cheesecloth costumes and have their faces and hair powdered white and the stage or room must be decorated with white cotton for snow and elaborately trimmed with holly and pine.

A holiday party for a large number of children might consist of an old fashioned store. This store should be made in the parlor and the children given small checks representing money, with which they are to buy certain articles. Of course each check will correspond with a number upon some article, and all will be supposed to divide what they get. There should be big surprises in the candy boxes, jelly glasses and bottles, and immense boxes should contain popcorn, apples, candy or kindergarten trifles. Some of the largest boxes might hold little things picked up in the ten cent store. The entertainment should be planned in a manner to give each child something attractive and something fun provoking, without slighting any. The storekeepers should be the older brothers and sisters of the little folks, and the store should be as much like a country store as possible.

It would be a clever idea for a party for a hostess to send out invitations to the friends of her children and state that Mrs. Santa Claus would entertain the children at her home on a certain night or afternoon between Christmas and New Year's. The house should be decorated for the occasion, and Mrs. Santa Claus must wear a black or red dress, large white apron and cap and spectacles and have white hair. Of course if Mr. Santa Claus is present it will add that much to the merriment. If little girls are invited they might come prepared to dress little dolls to send to the hospitals or children's homes, and if they cannot dress dolls at least they could make candy and popcorn to send to these little folks. Another amusement would be the making of pretty paper dolls. Then there could be games of different kinds, such as throwing bean bags and while blindfolded hanging the Christmas bell upon a paper Christmas tree pinned on the wall or door. When the invitations are sent tell the little girl or boy to bring her or his favorite toy.

"Herne's Oak."
There was a tradition, as old as Shakespeare's time, that one Herne, a keeper in Windsor park, hung himself upon a certain oak tree and it was ever after haunted by a ghost. Some say the tree was eventually cut down in 1796, and others that it stood until blown down in 1863. The British Encyclopedia recognizes the legend without vouching for its truth, and says that Queen Victoria planted a young oak on the spot where the old "Herne oak" was down in 1863.

Daily Thought.
Prayer is so mighty an instrument that no one ever thoroughly mastered all its keys. They sweep along to infinite scale of man's wants and goodness.—Hugh Miller.

TO BE TRIED FOR CATCHING MULLET

DAYTONA BEACH MAN PLEADS GUILTY AT PRELIMINARY HEAR-ING BEFORE JUSTICE J. W. WIL-LIAMS.

Wm. Oehler, the well-known Daytona Beach fisherman, was arrested yesterday for killing ocean mullet out of the season and went before Justice of the Peace J. W. Williams of Seabreeze for preliminary hearing yesterday morning.

The defendant pleaded guilty to the charge and was bound over by Justice Williams to the county criminal court which convened in DeLand today.

The new fish laws which were passed by the legislature this year forbid the catching and killing of mullet, one of the most prolific of ocean fish, in this locality, in the closed season. The closed season is now on and many sellers do not know of the new laws.

DAYTONA BEACH LADIES

HOLD PLEASANT PARTY

A pleasant party was held at the Kentucky-Neptune yesterday afternoon. About 75 members of the musical, literary and social club were present at its second meeting.

Mrs. U. Hambrich acted as chairman of the day. The program opened by two song numbers given by Mrs. C. A. Randall, which were followed by Mrs. C. A. Phillips who gave an interesting reading. Two amusing selections were given by Mrs. A. J. Beardsley and Miss Hunter, a charming musician who is staying in Daytona Beach for the winter, played some beautiful selections on the piano. The program was diversified by some very amusing games some of which were very unique. A novel manner of introduction was arranged which was entered into with a good deal of mirth.

Tags were placed on the shoulders of each of the ladies with their names plainly written and to the music of a brisk march the couples marched around the room introducing each other by means of the cards. As soon as all were acquainted with each other, the meeting was adjourned to meet next Monday at 3 p. m.

TWO SPREES MAY BE YEAR'S LIMIT

New York Bill Would Thus Curtail Consumption of Alcohol.

PERSONAL LICENSE IS PLAN

Three Falls From Water Wagon In Twelve Months Would Forever Bar One From Drinking—National Defense Association Is Sponsor For the Proposed Legislation.

Two sprees a year is to be the limit for the New Yorker and three a year will mean that he cannot take another drink for the rest of his life if the National Defense association has its way.

According to the "no drunkard" bill which will be presented to the legislature, in the first place if you want to take a drink you must have a card, which is to be made of durable card board and will be issued at the city hall on the payment of $1. A concession to the bashful is that the cards may be issued by mail. After you get your card you rest one foot on the brass rail, face the bartender and ask for your favorite tipple.

"Lemme see your card," challenges the barkeep.

You show your card and may thereafter take aboard as much cargo as you can carry without tacking. When you begin to tack your card is of no more service, for if the barkeeper sells you another drink he forfeits a big bonus he has left down at the city hall. The first time one is arrested for intoxication or treated by a physician one gets a warning with his headache, the second time one loses one's license for the year, and the third time one is out—that is, one loses one's license forever and can never have another drink, the bill says.

Cards Are Not Transferable.

No, you can't borrow your friend's card, for if you are caught using it there is a fine of $100 and thirty days in jail for the offense. And if one is caught buying a drink without a card both the buyer and the seller go to jail. If one is really ill one may get a doctor's prescription, but it may be used only once. A violation sends the user forthwith to the jail.

The association reported that 1,000 men in the city had agreed to take out cards if the law is passed. It was estimated that there would be many others to join the 1,000 pioneers.

And, by the way, women must have cards, too, and they must certify that they are twenty-one or more to get them. If a man thinks his whole family needs alcohol he can get a family license for $5, but he must specify by whom it is to be used. The family license can be used only when the head of the house is along. If a wife goes to tango teas and does ought but tango she must have her own license.

What Plan Will Accomplish.

William T. Hoyt, who lives in Milford, Conn., and is president of the National Defense association, told all about the plan.

"It will be an honor to have a drink card," he explained, "because it will certify that one doesn't drink too much. Very simple, is it not, for if one drinks too much one ceases to have a card and consequently cannot drink any more. In that way there will be no more drunkards. Very simple, indeed. Then, if one drinks only because it seems a social obligation one has a good excuse if one says one hasn't a card. If a person gets locked up for being intoxicated he can't dodge the issue by giving a fictitious name, for if he hasn't a card he goes to jail anyway, and if he has a card it identifies him. Very simple. Here are some things this law will do:

"It will stop treating, for no minor can get a license.
"It will stop the creation of dipsomaniacs, inebrates and drunkards.
"Salesmen, politicians, reporters and other popular persons may refuse alcoholic drinks without giving offense, simply by 'having no card.'"

Mr. Hoyt then exhibited a statement by Jack London, in which the author of "John Barleycorn," who decided after 200 pages that he would still have a drink when he wanted it, said: "I am absolutely convinced that the 'no drunkard' plan is the finest thing that has yet been presented considered in the light of all circumstances, for the abolition of drinking. In the matter of writing I should back the proposition to my full ability." Jack London is a vice president of the organization.

GROWS BLOOM FOR MRS. GALT

Washington Experts Cultivating "Edith Bolling Pink" in Greenhouse.
The carnation expert at the government experimental greenhouse in Washington is paying a delicate compliment to her who will be the first lady of the land. He is bringing into being a flower which will be worthy of her, the Edith Bolling pink.

It is expected that the new "made in America" carnation will be a blend of white and deepest pink and that it will have a delightful odor.

It is scarcely to be hoped that the new blossom will be perfected in time for the wedding of the president and Mrs. Galt, but doubtless it will bloom forth in all its glory in February as a valentine.

Decided Advantage.

"I like a brass band better than a phonograph," remarked the man on the car, "because a brass band runs out of wind."—Toledo Blade.

Useless.

Knicker—"Smith thinks the world is his oyster and he is the knife to open it." Bocker—"It wouldn't do him any good, his best girl would eat it."—Judge.

The Modern Way.

Instead of singing lullabies many modern mothers take their babies to the movies and let the audience laugh the little dears to sleep.—Toledo Blade.

Lusitania.

Lusitania is the ancient Latin name for a country whose borders were almost identical with those of modern Portugal.

Penalty of Progress.

When we get telephones that can be seen through every woman will have to look into the mirror before she answers a call.—Toledo Blade.

Burdens of the Ass.

To know what hat goes with which boots, and what collar and tie with what coat and waistcoat, and what costume is appropriate at ten o'clock in the morning and what at ten o'clock in the evening, and to know the names of the head waiters of the principal restaurants are minor matters. These are the conveniences of the gentleman, but the characteristic burdens of the ass. Such a mental equipment is not the stuff of which soldiers, sailors, statesmen, explorers or governors are made.—Exchange.

Not Settled Yet.

"Is the head of the house at home?" asked the agent as the mister of the family answered the doorbell. Making no effort to answer the question, the mister person said: "I don't know what line of goods you are introducing or whether they would fit in our establishment or not, that phase of the matter being neither here nor there; but let me tell you something: If you can establish once for all just who is to be recognized as the head of this house, I'll buy a gross of whatever you've got and pay the catalogue price."

Bull Bearing; Long Wearing

The success of the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriters has been due to the fact that the wants of the user have dictated its construction. The user has decided in favor of certain improvements now incorporated in Model 8. Among them are:

Silence of Operation—The most silent running efficient typewriter ever placed on the market. Absolute silence has been very nearly attained.

Decimal Tabulator—A help in billing and tabulating. There is no extra charge for this convenience.

Variable Line Spacer—Enables the operator to start on a given line and space from point of starting; also to write on ruled lines whose spacing varies from typewriter spacing. A great help in card work.

Faster Ribbon Feed—Insures new place of impact for each typeface.

Choice of Carriage Return—Upon special order the new left hand carriage return will be furnished in place of the right hand return.

All the important features of previous models have been retained—ball bearing carriage, typebars and capital shift, back spacer, key-controlled ribbon, removable platen, protected type, flexible paper feed and automatic ribbon reverse.

Write for New Catalog of Model 8. It will explain why the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter is a synonym for superior service.

DAYTONA TO APPEAR IN SPECIAL EDITION
OF NEW YORK TIMES

The New York Times is to issue a special edition December 26, devoted to southern winter resort places, and George Mead, of this city and Mt. Vernon, N. Y., who is the special correspondent of the Times at this place, has written and forwarded to the paper a descriptive article of Daytona and a couple of photographs of points of interest here. This should prove good advertising for Daytona, as the Times is widely read, and Mr. Mead made the most of the space allowed him to sing Daytona's praises.

Region of High Winds.

Probably nowhere else does the wind blow so hard and steadily as in the Falkland Islands. Tree growth is practically impossible owing to this peculiarity, and with such force does the wind sweep that region at times that potatoes and turnips have been known to be blown out of the ground. Grass, however, grows luxuriantly.

Share Your Blessings.

No blessing can be perfectly enjoyed unless shared with a friend.

But How About Getting Away?

There are people who are afraid of cucumbers, just as others fear dogs. But there is little danger from either if approached with kindness and confidence.—Toledo Blade.

Sensitiveness.

Sensitiveness is a form of fear, greatly exaggerated by introspection. Like all negative emotions sensitiveness grows with indulgence and easily becomes a fixed habit of thought and feelings.—Nautilus.

Dreaded Diseases Checked.

Several of the most common diseases, including typhoid and arthritis, have been practically banished from the United States navy by the use of distilled water for cooking, as well as drinking.

Strength or Weakness.

Trouble and anxiety are cruel masters, but wonderful teachers; they prepare us to understand the deepest mysteries, they make us strong for the greatest tasks, they open the way to incalculable treasures of sympathy and love. In a world which is fashioned to aid, enrich, and strengthen our spirits nothing comes to us devoid of meaning; everything that meets us challenges us and compels us to choose to become stronger or weaker.

A petition signed by qualified voters praying for the adoption of the necessary resolution for the calling of an election for the election of a charter board was read. The proposed resolution was read and adopted, calling for a general election on Wednesday, Feb. 9, 1916, at which election there shall be chosen a charter board of five members in accord with the recently enacted state law.

A communication from Chief French was read, recommending the purchase of a thousand feet of hose and making certain changes in the alarm system. All of his recommendations were adopted.

Mr. Drennan was allowed $15.00 per month from Dec. 15th to April 1, 1916 as extra night watchman.

Under new business Fire Chief French requested permission to be allowed to purchase a double bed, not to exceed $15.00 in price, so that two men instead of one can sleep at the fire station. This was granted.

After discussion by Mayor Titus and members of the council on the need of improving the jail, the chairman appointed Aldermen Mills, and Conrad and the city marshal a committee to investigate the cost, etc. of a set of steel cells to be placed in the present jail. This committee was instructed to make its report at the next regular meeting.

Mr. Conrad was appointed to oversee and arrange for the making of the fill in front of the band pavilion as requested in a communication from Commodore Burgoyne.

How Hot Top Hats Are.

Tests with thermometers have been made to show how unhygienic men's top hats are. A thermometer kept in a top hat showed an inside temperature of 90 degrees when the outer air stood at 77 degrees and of 108 degrees when the temperature rose at noon to 90 degrees. In the evening there was a temperature outside of 68 degrees and inside of 88 degrees.

"MUMMY AND THE HUMMING BIRD" AT CRYSTAL TONIGHT

Jaded motion picture appetites will find the spice that reawakens the enjoyment of savory morsels in "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," the film adaptation of the play by Isaac Henderson, in which the Famous Players present the celebrated Frohman star, Charles Cherry, who makes his screen debut at the Crystal tonight, in this latest Paramount picture.

The art of Charles Cherry is the art of the seasoned actor who has subjugated his unique natural artistic talents to the peculiar exigencies of the screen without in any way impairing their effectiveness. It is the work of the true artist whose inborn dramatic sense, if art may be so termed, has unerringly guided him through the technical mazes which have tripped many a stage favorite who has attempted to adapt his or her art to the screen. Mr. Cherry's delightful impersonation of the absent-minded peer who neglects his wife to conduct scientific experiments is one which he may well be proud to add to the personal triumphs gained while appearing on the stage in support of some of the foremost actresses.

"The Mummy and the Humming Bird" recounts the tragedy of a neglected wife who seeks amusement in the company of an unscrupulous Italian novelist, whose only object in making love to her is the hope of eventually accomplishing her downfall. The reawakening of the unsuspecting husband; the revenge which a former victim of the wily schemer wreaks, and the saving of the innocent woman are fraught with thrills and dramatic suspense in abundance.

It is the sort of production which cannot but impress those who view it with the importance of the alliance between Charles Frohman, the great theatrical producer, and the Famous Players, the pioneer concern in the adaptation of celebrated plays to the screen, an alliance which made possible the introduction to the photoplay public of so distinguished an artist as Charles Cherry and many others of equal renown.

A. E. Lang, district commercial manager for the Western Union Telegraph company, was a Daytona visitor today and while here closed a contract with the Daily News to deliver the paper to subscribers whom the carrier misses. The plan is this: If your copy of the Daily News does not arrive by 6:00 o'clock just step to the telephone and call "Western Union," tell the one that answers the phone that your paper has not arrived and a messenger boy will immediately bring a copy of the paper to you. Do not call the Western Union until 6:00 o'clock; if you have a complaint to make before that hour call the Daily News office, phone 18 Green. It is the aim of the Daily News to give its subscribers perfect delivery service, hence the arrangement with the Western Union to deliver your copy of the paper when the carrier misses you.

BROUGHT IN TURKEY AND
QUAILS FROM BULL ISLAND

Ernest Kreitzberg and M. L. O'Brien, with James Bennett as guide, returned Monday afternoon from a three or four days' hunting expedition in the Bull Island district, west of Oak Hill. They succeeded in getting a turkey and quite a number of quails and had a fine camping trip. Mr. Kreitzberg, who is president of the Arcade Amusement company is a very enthusiastic sportsman and usually makes several hunting trips each season, always with James Bennett as guide, and seldom fails to find and bag the game.

Man's Real Worth.

The prevailing fault of our time is the estimating of manhood by the accidents of life, rather than by its essentials. Not what a man has or what happens to him; not wealth, nor noble blood, nor crowns, nor titles; but the things that are in him and shining through him—his thoughts, motives, springs of action; these constitute the man.—D. J. Burrell.

IMMIGRATION IS BIG RUSSIAN PROBLEM

Proper Solution Seriously Engages the Government.

MANY ARE SENT TO SIBERIA

Refugees From Poland and Other Sections Estimated at 13,000,000, and Expenditures of Central Government Alone Exceed $6,500,000—Distribution Through Rural Russia.

The efforts to find a solution of the problems connected with the great migration of peoples incident to the Russian withdrawal from Poland and other parts of Russian territory are seriously engaging Russian thought. The monetary cost of the vast movement already has mounted high. The imperial government and the government of various provinces have expended money freely to shelter and feed and clothe the refugees, whose numbers are estimated as high as 13,000,000 by some.

The expenditures of the central government in this connection are already in excess of 13,000,000 rubles ($6,500,000), and the total cost is probably more than 100,000,000 rubles. Besides this sum, there must be reckoned the huge sums involved in abandoned property and the cost to the railways, over which free passage was given and whose operations were for a time largely confined to removal of unfortunate victims of the war.

Besides distributing the refugees, mainly peasants, throughout the rural districts of European Russia, the government is sending larger and larger parties as time goes on to central Asia and to Siberia, where it is allotting lands to the refugees, it becoming evident that the majority of men will never return to their former homes regardless of the issue of the war. Most of them have lost all their possessions except the parcels of clothing they were able to carry with them.

Will Never Return.

Once installed on virgin soil, which process will necessitate large advances of funds for farm implements, seed and work animals, it will be virtually impossible, it is held, to upset this arrangement and return the peasants to their former holdings. A prospect of this sort is displeasing to many Poles, who fear that the Polish question may be receiving a solution far from that which they desire. Against the prospect of the return of many to their former homes, it is also argued, is the natural desire on their part to re-establish the domestic hearth somewhere without waiting for the end of the war. It is thought by many that only families owning land are likely to seek their old homes again, and it is questioned if even some of these may not choose to remain on their new allotments, liquidating their old titles when the war is over.

To one section of the refugees, that of the Jewish race, it is thought by many that the argument against a return will particularly apply, as it is held that their unwillingness to go back to the cramped conditions of life in the former pale of settlement will naturally be stronger than that among refugees of other races.

One of the most vital questions respecting the refugees is the procurement for them of employment to prevent their pauperization. Many are disposed to lean on government charity, it appears, and some disheartenment among voluntary workers for the refugees over their frequent refusal to accept employment when offered is reported.

TO AID OUR OBSERVERS.

Marine Corps Sergeant Invents Military Topographical Map.

A portable military and naval topographical map for use of air scouts in the field, which will enable them to make quick and realistic reports of observations, has been invented by Gunnery Sergeant Herman G. Stroschein of the United States marine corps.

Worm gearing, operated by telescopic thumb screws from the sides of the map, will create elevations and depressions thereon, showing terrain, contours of valleys, bodies of water, etc., and should make the aviator's report clear to the newest man in the field of operations, Stroschein claims.

The map will be very light, though strongly built, and it is thought by many military men that one of the great problems confronting aviators in the field—speed and accuracy in observation description—will have been overcome by the use of the marine sergeant's invention.

JITNEYS HURT CAR LINES.

Cause Decrease of 11,350,000 Fares in Year in Washington.

Traction lines in Seattle, Tacoma and Bellingham, in their annual reports to the Washington state public service commission, say that operation of jitney buses resulted in a loss during the year of 11,350,000 fares to the companies, 9,000,000 fares having been diverted in Seattle.

The jitney competition caused a decrease of $301,000 in the net railway revenues of the Puget Sound Traction Light and Power company.

Mrs. Dub is a cousin of Dr. P. R. Bennett, well known winter resident of Daytona.

FILL IS IN PROGRESS ON THE THOMPSON LOTS

Work was commenced Monday by F. A. Root with his suction dredge on the filling of the J. E. Thompson lots on the river front in the southern part of Holly Hill. These lots were enclosed on the water front by a coquina rock seawall last spring and several weeks ago Mr. Root made a preparatory fill behind the wall with his dipper dredge, leaving the main fill to be done by his suction dredge. There are three, 100 foot lots in the plot which when filled in will make a valuable piece of property reclaimed from marsh land and river. There is still quite a section of similar property in the vicinity which could be improved in the same manner and no doubt this will also be done in the course of time.

Nicholas Young and James McDonald of Brooklyn, N. Y., who were guests for a few days at the Gables hotel and went on from this city to Miami the forepart of last week, returned to Daytona Saturday and departed Sunday on their return north. Before leaving for Brooklyn, however, Mr. Young rented for the season the former Sebring residence, now owned by J. J. Randall, on South Ridgewood avenue and will return the first week in January, accompanied by his family, to occupy it. Messrs. Young and McDonald are personal friends of P. J. Doyle of this city and Brooklyn and it was through Mr. Doyle that they were induced to visit Daytona and were won by its charm and beauty.

R. R. BUILDING FRESHLY PAINTED

The paint crew of the F. E. C. railway completed their work at this place Monday and left this morning for Harwood. Both the passenger and freight depots have been painted inside and outside and the train shed, outbuildings and fences are all resplendent in a fresh coat of paint. The improvement is very marked, particularly in the variation from the established yellow and white to the three colors of yellow, white and dark green.

COMMITTEE PRESENTS CANAL MATTER DATA

that period of time and has been and is today of sufficient depth to accommodate all the boats that are necessary to handle the freight between Sanford and Jacksonville. What has been the result? Has the territory along the St. Johns river been built up by reason of this waterway? Today there are less winter tourists who visit the St. Johns river—that is to say, winter tourists who go over the St. Johns river route to a definite intermediate point between Jacksonville and Sanford than there were twenty years ago. Today there are less stops made by the Clyde line river boats on the St. Johns river than there were twenty years ago, and with the exception of Green Cove Springs, Palatka and Sanford, there is not a town of any size between Jacksonville and Sanford and yet for all these many years this section of the country has had the benefit of deep water. We contend therefore that there is absolutely no reason to expect that the tonnage from Jacksonville to Sanford will be increased one pound by the cutting of the canal from Titusville or near that point to Sanford.

On the other hand, let us consider what advantage has been taken of the present East Coast canal by the people along that line. The canal was completed in 1912 and boats of a fashion were at once placed in operation. The company operating started in handicapped by lack of capital and with insufficient equipment. From the very start they were overwhelmed with freight and had the service given by them been satisfactory, they would now be handling over fifty per cent of the tonnage in and out of Daytona and points adjacent thereto at a saving to the consignees of 25 per cent in freight charges. This company became involved and their boats were frequently tied up by litigation so that the service became of such a nature that shippers were afraid to take chances on their goods getting through. As a matter of fact, so much freight was consigned to this line from northern points that the railroads running into Jacksonville entered their complaint against consigning goods to this canal line on the grounds that warehouses in Jacksonville became congested inasmuch as the boat line was unable to take the freight out as fast as it arrived in Jacksonville. About five months ago the Howard line, a new concern, took the old line over and inaugurated a new system of boats with their southern terminus at Stuart, and the tonnage at Daytona alone during the months of September, October and November, handled by the Howard line, was 2,520.9 tons, of which 260 tons were northbound shipments.

Without being able to give you exact figures we make the assertion, and we believe correctly, that the Howard line is today handling almost as much freight between Jacksonville and Stuart, its southern terminus, and intermediate points, as the Clyde line is between Jacksonville and Sanford and intermediate points, and that notwithstanding the fact that the Clyde line has had at least 25 years of satisfactory operation to assure the shippers, while the Howard line has had only five months' experience and the previous bad record of its predecessor to contend with.

We realize that your honorable board in making your recommendations will do so with an eye to future development rather than to past experiences, although in this case, the past is most significant in foretelling the future. From a tourist point of view, there is absolutely no comparison between the two routes. For every tourist visiting and spending the winter or a portion thereof in points along the St. Johns river between Jacksonville and Sanford, there is not less than one hundred visiting and spending the winter or a portion thereof at points along the present East Coast canal, and we would call the attention of your honorable board to the fact that the tourist proposition is responsible for the major portion of the southbound freight. We realize that a thorough inspection of both lines will be made by your board, and we would most earnestly ask that in doing so you give special heed as to what may be expected from the country adjacent to the two proposed routes.

Take the country from Jacksonville to Sanford and consider it carefully from the standpoint of agriculture or citrus culture. Although blessed with deep water these many years, you will find no section that produces any tonnage worthy of mention with the exception possibly of Sanford itself. On the other hand, you will find mile after mile of swamp where it is impossible even to land and which it is reasonable to assume will never be inhabited. On the other hand, the East Coast canal, particularly from St. Augustine to Titusville with which section we are most familiar, runs through a territory chosen by the English and Spanish as being the most fertile of all Florida and which was nearly all at one time in cultivation. This land is rapidly being again brought into cultivation and will in the course of a few years yield a tonnage that will necessitate deeper water and many more boats. Farms of great fertility are being located along the present canal, and access to and from many of these farms can only be had by water. As an example, a tract of 3,000 acres situated just west of the Smith creek bridge will be placed on the market this winter and the owners—the Halifax company, with offices in Jacksonville—will at once proceed to plant 300 acres in grove and the balance will be sold to settlers upon such terms and conditions that they cannot help but make a success. This in addition to a grove of 100 acres owned by this concern and situated within a quarter of a mile of the canal. Another concern owning 1,300 acres on Spruce creek, a tributary of the canal, will have the entire acreage in potatoes within another year and their product will all be handled by water. The land on both sides of the Tomoka river is being developed by Northern capital and with wonderful fertility will create a large amount of freight, including naval stores going north, in both directions which, from the location, can be handled more advantageously by water. Drainage districts are being created around Daytona and New Smyrna and the results obtained from these will bring several thousand acres more of this wonderful land into cultivation.

We are unable to give you the total tonnage handled by rail in and out of Daytona during the year, but we believe that there is not less than five thousand tons of coal alone brought into this section, and we base our estimate upon the fact that the Clarendon hotel alone has shipped to themselves 1,000 tons during the season. This freight can and probably will be handled entirely by water if the present boat service is maintained. With over fifty other hotels in Daytona and vicinity, you can readily see the amount of freight that must necessarily be handled on their account alone.

We have in Daytona and vicinity a product that, had there been means of water transportation, would by this time have been one of the most popular building materials. We mean coquina rock, which is found all along the canal from St. Augustine to New Smyrna. Many hundreds of barge loads are used in Daytona alone each year and the demand for it is increasing rapidly. The many natural oyster banks provide road material that cannot be handled to any advantage except by water, and this is at the present time transported long distances over the canal. It is a common and almost daily sight to see the boats of the Howard line passing Daytona loaded with oranges from points farther south and when assured of the service we believe that most of the Indian river fruit will be handled in this way.

We make this statement and without fear of contradiction that the total population immediately along the St. Johns river to Sanford has absolutely decreased within the last twenty years. This decrease may have been offset to some extent by increase in the points of Palatka and Sanford, but the population along the present canal from the St. Johns river to Miami has increased perhaps more rapidly than any portion of the entire South.

Points along the St. Johns that were at one time prosperous communities are now abandoned, while new towns are springing up along the East Coast almost daily. Is it not reasonable to assume that where the people are there also will be the need for transportation, and it is and has been an admitted fact that the East Coast railway has at times even in the past been utterly unable to handle the tremendous amount of freight consigned to the East Coast of Florida, and no

SIMPLICITY MARKS WEDDING OF PRESIDENT AND MRS. NORMAN GALT

Bride, One of Washington's Most Beautiful Women, Has Never Looked More Lovely and Attractive.

She is a Woman of Simple Tastes, Fond of Books and Traveling and an Excellent Housekeeper.

THE wedding of the president of the United States and Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt at the bride's Washington home on the evening of Saturday, Dec. 18, electrifies an entire nation, peculiarly susceptible to the heart appeal to a country witnessing the marriage of its first citizen.

With a ceremony so simple and with attendants so few one can scarcely believe that the wedding means a new life for the president and a new "first lady of the land."

Mrs. Galt, one of the most beautiful women in Washington of the old Virginia stock, never looked more lovely than she did as the date for the wedding approached. And even the most cynical recognizes the genuineness of the elation and buoyancy of the president, who under the spell of his bride has been literally "made over."

On Dec. 28 the president will be fifty-nine years old. Less than a year ago the trace of a very eventful year was written unmistakably into his face and physique. Especially did he show the stress and travail which he has undergone during the last five years. Today, apparently without a care in the world, he looks less than fifty. His air of austere reserve has melted away, and he is all graciousness. Nobody can doubt that under the influence of the simple, gracious, companionable woman he has won, "the year's at the spring" for him. Moreover, he developed an enthusiasm in his courtship that proved a delight and surprise for those who thought they knew him best.

The "Something Blue."

The same turquoise bracelet worn by other brides of this administration—Mrs. Francis Bowes Sayre and Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo—adorns the arm of the president's bride. It is the property of Miss Margaret Wilson and supplies the "something borrowed and something blue" necessary to carry out the old bridal superstition.

The "something old" is a piece of rare old rose point from a famous Bolling collection. The wedding gown, of course, provides the "something new."

The Galt home in Twentieth street was put in spick and span order for the ceremony and the festivities incident thereto. The floral scheme is on an elaborate order, having been worked out by experts of the White House conservatories.

The tall mirrored mantel in the drawing room, which has been done over in American Beauty tints, is banked with lilies of the valley and Killarney roses. The tall palms which have formed part of the decorations at all White House weddings since that of Nellie Grant have been placed in the drawing room.

The dining room, the scene of the wedding feast, is one of the most interesting rooms in the house. The long mahogany table, an heirloom in the bride's family, has been polished to ultra brightness. The old fashioned buffet is laden with gifts of scores of friends and with the hand wrought silver of the Bolling family.

The country has never witnessed functions more brilliant than those which will be held in the White House after the return of the president and his bride from their honeymoon. She is a gracious and brilliant entertainer, although she has taken little part in social activities during the past eight years. Of course there will be trouble in arranging the diplomatic dinners because of the European war, but the president's bride is somewhat of a diplomat herself and will find a way out. Many receptions have been planned, and Washington society is rejoicing.

Washington has often noted with complimentary phrases the bride's taste in dress. Her friends have always remarked her ability to dress distinctively and becomingly. Back of this ability lies a talent cultivated in the girlhood days. Money was not overabundant in the Bolling family. There was enough to give everybody the education due the standing of an old and influential Virginia family, but cash to buy trousseaux ad lib for a family of girls remarkable for their beauty and popularity was not always available, wherefore Miss Edith Bolling began to utilize her gift for line and form and for color and design. Twenty-five years ago in Wytheville, Va., the new first lady as a girl in her teens developed a great reputation in the large family connection for her ability to buy, to cut out, to fit and to make up divers frocks for divers occasions. So, too, with hats. She has great skill in the building of a hat. She can "poise a wing" or twist a ribbon into a bow with the skill of a trained hand.

Not Fond of Jewelry.

"She has less jewelry than any member of the family," said one of the connection the other day. "I should say she had no favorite gem. The opal is her birthstone and is seen in the handsome bodice jewels, brooches or rings she possesses. She never cared for jewels, even as a young girl."

The bride is fond of flowers. No matter what the blossom, its color, its fragrance, its shape, its size, she is fond of flowers. The president's earliest remembrance took the form of exquisite clusters of orchids, sometimes white, sometimes yellow, sometimes mauve. Huge clusters of rich red roses sometimes replaced the orchids, and again bunches of lilies of the valley beautified the smart toilets in which she appeared either in public or in the drawing rooms of her friends.

A few books showed the president's thoughtfulness from time to time. While not either bookish or a "blue-stocking," the bride is a remarkably well informed woman. She has made nine or ten trips to Europe, and each time she has gone she has stopped for periods varying from six months to a year. She is keenly observant, and she delights in leisurely touring about in unfrequented paths.

A Simple Woman.

"You may take it from me, Edith never does anything for effect or because it is considered 'the thing to do.' She is in love with the man Woodrow Wilson. The glamour of the White House did not attract her or influence her judgment in a matter so intimate and vital," was one comment.

This side light is further emphasized in her manner of traveling. She selects her route and her companion, makes her arrangements and sets out sanely.

According to another of her friends, she is one "of the most alive and vivid women" imaginable.

An alive and vivid woman she appears in her travels. Two years ago, with Miss Alice Gertrude Gordon, she made a tour of Spain—not the Spain of the cities, but the bypaths of the unfrequented Spain.

Between Miss Gordon and the bride the warmest friendship exists. Called to General Gordon's deathbed, her promise to "look after Gertrude" has resulted in a devoted friendship cemented by long periods of travel in far-off lands. Sentimental only is the tie of "guardianship" which many in Washington, even the closest of friends, consider exists between Miss Gordon and the president's helpmate. However, so devoted is she to her young companion "Altrude" (a play on the given names of Alice Gertrude) that even her business affairs have many times received the steadying influence of her oversight.

Fine "Poor Man's Wife."

To turn to the purely domestic side, she is an excellent housekeeper, and she has a reputation for retaining not only the good will but the co-operation of her domestics. She herself can work out a menu admirably, and if the necessity arose she could personally "get up" a palatable dinner. She is clever at the Sunday evening supper table (a distinctive feature of southern households), and her handling of the chafing dish on these occasions conduces to the good digestion which waits on appetite.

She is a familiar figure in the Washington markets, her smart little run-about many times being filled with the more perishable fruits of her domestic shopping.

Altogether she would make a "fine wife for a poor man."

She is open handed and generous, a devoted church woman and until quite recently a member of St. Thomas' Episcopal church. She now attends St. Margaret's, where her brother, Richard Wilmer Bolling, is an usher and where her mother, Mrs. W. H. Bolling; her unmarried brother, John Randolph Bolling, and her sister, Miss Bertha Bolling, also attend.

Fond of Young People.

"To show the younger contingent a good time" is one of her attributes. Not less is she considerate of the aged. Many instances of her looking up the invalid and elderly and taking them for drives about the parks are recorded. The mother of a young southern woman employed in one of the government departments came to visit her daughter, whom the president's bride had frequently met. Almost daily throughout the visit she appeared either in the afternoon or morning and acted as cicerone.

As to her accomplishments, the bride, possessing an avid mind and having traveled extensively—she has passed some time in every country in Europe and has traveled throughout the United States, Canada and Alaska—is thoroughly in touch with the thought and development of the life of the day. She speaks French well. She is a talented pianist. Her fine mezzo soprano voice, while untrained, is admirably suited to ballad singing. She is fond of singing. So also is the president, who himself has a good voice.

Finally she is well poised, "very human" and thoroughly unaffected and sincere. Not only charmingly pretty, she has the distinction of manner and carriage which will admirably conform to the role she is soon to assume—chatterbox of the White House and first lady of the land.

LANE SUGGESTS AN ISSUE OF BONDS TO RECLAIM LANDS

ANNUAL REPORT OF SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR PUTS FORTH IDEAS OF INTENT TO NAVY SELECTIONS.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The advisability of a mammoth issue of United States bonds coupled with state bond issues to raise money for the improvement of American streams for drainage, irrigation, reclamation and flood prevention is discussed in a section of the annual report of Secretary of the Interior, Franklin K. Lane, made public today.

The Secretary declares that the American river and reclamation question constitutes one of the greatest problems before the nation today. He described the amount of money which will be needed to make the proposed improvements as "staggering" and says there appears to be no hope of getting the work done without a heavy investment of Government money. The Secretary points out that it would be unwise to expend money for this purpose from current revenues.

"Permanent improvements which the whole people undertake are a legitimate charge against capital account, not against maintenance," the report says. "A commission to devise the ways and means by which the states and private land owners and the national government can cooperate in paying for the work seems to me a more needed body than one which will report upon engineering methods."

This means of financing says the Secretary will distribute the cost of the projects undertaken, among the generations which shall enjoy the benefits.

The Secretary discusses the Colorado river situation. He says the people of the Imperial Valley in Southern California must fight to prevent the Colorado from inundating their homes, as the Hollanders fight to restrain the sea from bursting through their dikes. The flood water should be captured in reservoirs soon after it descends from the snow-capped peaks of the Rockies and used for irrigating desert stretches, thus making the wilderness blossom and saving the lowlands from destruction by flood. The work done so far in strengthening the banks of the lower reaches of the Colorado is little more than patchwork, the report says.

Many other rivers throughout the country, particularly the Mississippi and Missouri rivers need attention, the Secretary declares. Great loss of life and property may be avoided by judicious improvement, he says.

Parrot Called Police.

A Philadelphia parrot screamed so that the police entered the house and found the mistress dead from drinking poison. "Get out!" wailed the parrot, when told what had happened.

CONGRESSMEN GROWING MODEST

Few Glowing Accounts Appear In Autobiographies.

INITIATING NEW MEMBERS.

Those Serving Their First Terms Are Fast Getting Their Bearings and Learning How the Nation's Laws Are Made—Meeting the "Big Men" of the Capital Is Important For Them.

While the veteran members of congress are busy getting their bills in shape for presentation and running the house and senate, the new members are getting their bearings, learning how business is transacted and meeting the "big men" of Washington.

There are many things for the new men to learn, and they know that the best thing to do is to make friends with the men who have the "pull" and who can be of untold benefit to them in their work.

There are a great many new members of this congress who first told of themselves in their autobiographies. The book, however, is less interesting this year, as it seems that the people have elected a very modest set of lawmakers.

Senator Henry Algonon du Pont of Delaware again uses the most space in the directory. It requires fifty-six closely printed lines to review the war record of the Delaware solon.

Congressmen Charles Lindbergh of Minnesota and Thaddeus Caraway of Arkansas compete for brevity. Each uses less than one line. Mr. Lindbergh describing himself merely as "Republican, of Little Falls," and Mr. Caraway "Democrat, of Jonesboro."

Senator James D. Phelan of California qualifies as a member of many clubs and asserts also that he belongs to the Society of California Pioneers and is president of the Hall Association of the Native Sons of the Golden West.

With national defense as an issue in this congress, Congressman P. Davis Oakley of Connecticut is one of many members to record that he served with the national guard.

Congressman William Baker Oliver, a new Democrat from Alabama, admits that as prosecuting attorney he "attained the highest percentage of convictions in the state."

Charles Hiram Randall, Prohibition-

ist, of Los Angeles, Cal., calls attention to the fact that a member of the Randall family wrote "Maryland, My Maryland."

Congressman Frank Park of Georgia uses but one more word than Messrs. Lindbergh and Caraway. He names his state as well as town.

Robert M. McCracken, a new member from Iowa, says he went west from Indiana when a lad, "to grow up with the country."

Uncle Joe Elected Twenty Times.

Uncle Joe Cannon's biography is a simple recital of his election to twenty congresses and the fact that he is a lawyer.

Harry E. Hull, Republican, of Iowa says he had only ten days to make his campaign to succeed the late Mr. Pepper and that he "made a run that was accepted by the whole country as proof of how the farmers would vote and of the weakness of the Progressive cause."

David H. Kincheloe of Madisonville, Ky., proudly says he is married and "has one girl, now seven and one-half months old."

Whitcomb Pugh Martin labels himself a "progressive protectionist" from Louisiana and adds that he is the first non-Democratic member to be elected from that state in twenty-five years.

A note of tragedy is contained in the brief autobiography of Congressman Thomas D. Schall of Minnesota, who says he lost his eyesight because of an electric shock in 1907, but has continued in the practice of law. The Sixty-fourth congress has two blind members—Senator Gore of Oklahoma and Mr. Schall.

Edward H. Wason of New Hampshire is one of the many farmers listed in the directory. He asserts that he takes a pride in farming and "has a large herd of registered Guernsey cattle and a modern, up to date farm."

Frederick W. Rowe, a new member from Brooklyn, lists many civic organizations with which he is affiliated and further explains that he is "superintendent of St. Paul's Sunday school."

It appears that Congressman Temple of Pennsylvania, re-elected, is the only minister among the house members. William Barclay Charles of Amsterdam, N. Y., records that he is a member of the Second Presbyterian church of that city.

small portion of this was consigned to points between Jacksonville and Titusville.

We contend that the improvement of the East Coast canal from the St. Johns river south will result in great commercial benefit to all the communities through which it passes, and we are utterly unable to see how the taking over of the St. Johns river route will or can do any more to stimulate tonnage over that route than the advantages that they have at the present time have done or have failed to do.

In discussing the value of the two routes to the government when completed, we would only say that we do not pretend to express an opinion as to the relative merits of the two routes in time of war, feeling that that is a question with which we are not in any way familiar, and one with which your honorable board is entirely conversant. We have been informed and believe it to be the truth that applications have been heretofore received by your honorable board for the privilege of cutting a canal at a point at or near the head of the St. Johns river into the Indian river, which applications were denied on the ground that this canal would materially increase the run-off and by doing so affect the storage lakes and so materially affect the water in the St. Johns river during periods of drought.

From these conclusions, your honorable board were forced to believe that the only practical way of building this proposed St. Johns river canal would be by the building of not less than two locks, one between Sanford and the beginning of the proposed canal and the other in the proposed canal itself. In addition to this, we would call the attention of your honorable board to the fact that the water hyacinths that have always and are now and from present indications always be a menace to navigation, which menace would be much greater in a narrow canal than in the present St. Johns river with its current and tide. We contend further that the condition of the soil in Florida with its low banks makes any canal containing locks much more expensive and troublesome to maintain.

There is another phase of this question which is of material importance to the whole East Coast of Florida but which may not be considered seriously by your honorable board, and that is the question of passenger service both by public and by private boats. Since the East Coast canal was completed the boats running thereon have been so busy with freight business that there has not been much attention paid to the passenger service, although quite a large number of passengers have been carried on these quaint boats. McCoy Brothers company, of Daytona, are now operating a line with five boats between St. Augustine and Palm Beach, and these boats are crowded on nearly every trip. The number of yachts cruising down the inside waterway and along the East Coast of Florida is increasing every year, and it seems to us as though it would be a hardship to compel them to travel around by the St. Johns river, a much longer distance, when they have no desire to go that way, as there is not one yacht that travels from Jacksonville to Sanford and return for every ten that come down the East Coast canal. Many come to Daytona for the winter. All stop for a day, and a great many stop for a few days on the way down and a few days on the way back. The Halifax River Yacht club of Daytona, in addition to providing free dockage privileges and free club privileges to these yachts for many years, and in addition to spending a great deal of money on stakes and beacons in the channel both north and south of Daytona, has constructed at its own expense a fifty-foot channel from the main channel to its clubhouse and to the city dock. St. Augustine, Daytona, New Smyrna, Titusville and all other cities on the East Coast are essentially yachting communities with all accommodations for yachtsmen, and on the other hand, we are informed, and believe, that there is not a recognized yacht club on the St. Johns river south of Jacksonville.

We believe that a thorough inspection of conditions as they now exist and as they have existed and as reasonable men have reason to believe that they will exist, will convince your honorable board that the interests of the greatest number will be best served by the taking over of the East Coast canal with its present large and rapidly increasing population, its wonderfully fertile and rapidly developing country, and with its fleet of yachtsmen who make it their winter playground.

Nearly a million dollars have been voted for good roads in Velusia county.

DONATIONS ARE ASKED FOR SOUTH BRIDGE FISHING DOCK
Owing to the demand for a fishing place of some kind in the southern part of the city and the fact that in the past the South bridge had always been very popular for this sport up to the time fishing from the bridge had been prohibited by the company, L. H. Thompson, of the Bingham & Thompson company, took the matter up with B. L. Armstrong in an effort to have a fishing dock built at the South bridge, similar to that at the Central bridge. Mr. Armstrong replied that the dock at the Central bridge had cost $150 and that he and his father, were willing to provide half the amount, as they had in that case, toward the erection of a similar fishing dock at the South bridge to be located on the south side between the toll house and the mouth of the canal. Donations have been asked for and $90 has already been subscribed, including that from the Armstrongs. This still leaves $60 yet to be raised and donations toward it will be thankfully received. The dock is to be constructed by Henry Van Horn. Many of the winter visitors enjoy the fishing here during the season and this dock will be a great convenience to those located in the southern part of the city.

Switzerland with a population 3,000,000 smaller than that of Massachusetts, and an area not a great deal larger than that state, can mobilize 250,000 trained and well equipped soldiers within 24 hours. Behind this is a partly trained force of reserves of about the same size, making 500,000 men.

GEM CITY MINSTRELS NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT

An important feature in the amusement line this week will be the performance by the Gem City Minstrels at the New Daytona theatre Friday evening. This fun-making and musical aggregation, composed of excellent local talent under the management of "Cash" Thomason, has given a number of entertainments here in the past and always to large and appreciative audiences.

Most of the old favorites, with a few new stars, are included in the cast and the coming performance promises to eclipse all previous entertainments given by the Gem City Minstrels.

New scenery has been painted for this performance and a varied program, with new songs and new jokes, will provide an exceedingly interesting entertainment.

Tickets are now on sale at Hankins' drug store, Beach street and Volusia avenue, and are going rapidly. All persons intending to see the minstrel should secure seats without delay. The entertainment is for the benefit of the baseball team.

There is no more pathetic figure than that of the minister who, having served his church faithfully for many years on a small salary, is left in want in his old age. SANTA TALKED TO 106 LITTLE FOLKS

TELEPHONE SYSTEM OF DAYTONA CONGESTED BY YOUNGSTERS TALKING TO SANTA CLAUS FOR OVER TWO HOURS.

For two hour and seventeen minutes, without a moments interruption, the little people of Daytona, Seabreeze, Daytona Beach and Kingston, from wee tots to those in their teens, talked to Santa Claus at the Daily News office Monday evening. Santa Claus arrived at the Daily News office promptly at seven o'clock, but even before his arrival the phone had rang several times and a small voice at the other end of the wire asked "Is Santa Claus there?" When he did arrive he was a busy old man, and he was kept busy until 17 minutes past nine, when he was obliged to depart. During the time from 7:00 o'clock to 9:17 there was not an interruption of 10 seconds when he was not talking to some little boy or girl, and the little boys and girls were telling him what they wanted him to bring for Christmas. The Daily News asked the operators at the telephone exchange how many calls had been answered, but they replied that they no idea because every little tot was obliged to call several times before being able to get a connection with Santa Claus line. The difficulty of talking with Santa Claus would have been great had not central adopted the idea of calling the ones she knew were waiting to talk to the children's friend. Several operators were kept busy at the telephone exchange answering the calls of the little folks.

Santa Claus has promised to give the Daily News the substance of all the telephone messages received here and also copies of all the letters he has received from the little folks and these talks and letters will be published in the Daily News next Saturday.

Remember, little people, you can write a letter to Sant Claus, care of the Daily News anytime before next Thursday and letters will be forwarded to him.

Over 250 letters have already been received, and 106 children talked to the old man over the telephone Monday evening.

It is estimated that fully 500 little people were unable to talk to Santa Claus last night, so busy was the line.

Optimistic Thought.

Remember, not too much of anything.

Fewer Germs on Linen.

Experiments have shown that germs do not increase as rapidly on linen as on wool, silk and cotton. This is why it is of so much value in surgical use and why many persons think it the most hygienic underwear.

Harmony in Fashion.

An up-to-date sartorial authority announces that a man's tie ought to match his hair. By a strict adherence to this rule a good many would have to wear a shoestring for a tie.—Providence Bulletin.

Macedonian Opium Best.

Macedonia grows the richest opium of all countries. The export of crude opium from the Saloniki district to this country ranks second to tobacco in value. The product is used solely in the manufacture of morphine and is not the quality used for smoking.

Light for Sick Room.

To shade the electric light in a sick-room or in a child's sleeping room, make a bag of green china silk, large enough to slip over the light, shade and all. Put in drawing string to tie it on. This will soften the light wonderfully.

Please come early.

We invite you to come and look at the many things we have gathered together for Christmas giving.

They are, we believe, appropriate, artistic and useful, and many of them will not be found elsewhere. The prices are reasonable.

FEW REPUBS ON COMMITTEES.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The organization of the house was completed today when the Republican members of committees were elected in accordance with the slate submitted by Representative Mann. Few Republicans who returned to congress after an absence of two years were restored to their old places on important committees by Uncle Joe Cannon went back to the committee on appropriations, upon which he formerly served.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE DELIVERED

LARGE AUDIENCE ATTRACTED TO
PALMETTO CLUBHOUSE MONDAY EVENING TO HEAR CLARENCE W. CHADWICK, C. S. B.

Clarence W. Chadwick, C. S. B. member of the board of lectureship of the mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientists, of Boston, Mass., delivered a most interesting lecture on Christian Science in the Palmetto clubhouse on Orange avenue, Monday evening to a large and appreciative audience. Not only was the main room of the building filled, but the tea room also contained quite a number of interested persons, it being necessary to secure extra chairs to accommodate all attending. Mr. Chadwick, a tall, striking looking man, well versed in the Christian Science faith and an able lecturer, was introduced by the Rev. Mr. Bell, pastor of the Congregational church of New Smyrna, who recently tendered his resignation with the purpose of uniting with the Christian Science church. The lecturer held the close attention of his large audience throughout the time he occupied the platform.

Mr. Chadwick came to Daytona Saturday from Coconut Grove, but went on to Macon, Ga., where he lectured Sunday evening, returning to Daytona Monday for the lecture in the evening. He was accompanied by Mrs. Chadwick and while here they were guests at the Prince George hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Chadwick left this morning for Savannah, Ga., where Mr. Chadwick is to deliver a lecture this evening.

H. W. Gerhan, a recent arrival from Cleveland, Ohio, in company with F. W. Shiro and J. T. Nelson, two well known Daytona residents, made a trip by auto, to the Inlet Monday. Although it was the thirteenth it was their lucky day, for they caught 49 trout in short order. Mr. and Mrs. Gerhan are visiting Daytona for the first time and are stopping at the Magnolia hotel. While here they have enjoyed every hour, visiting nearby places of interest daily, and have made many warm friends.

SHERIFF SMITH RUNS OVER NEGRO BOY ON BICYCLE

Sheriff E. L. Smith, of DeLand, while turning from Beach street into Magnolia avenue in his car about noon Monday struck and pretty well wrecked a bicycle ridden by a negro boy by the name of Leon Robinson. The boy escaped with nothing worse than some bruises and a skinned leg. No blame seems to attach to Sheriff Smith, who turned the corner according to the traffic regulations.

The delegates to the public hearing of the board of United States engineers held in Jacksonville Monday morning in relation to a government inland waterway from Jacksonville to Miami expected to return Monday evening, but were delayed in Jacksonville. Mrs. Bullard received a telegram from Mr. Bullard stating that they would be home today.

SAY!

Let me show you a new house, just completed, overlooking the Ocean, built a little better and a little different from the average house, with a living room 14 x 27 paneled wainscoting, beamed ceiling, oak floor, and a dandy fireplace. The dining-room is 14 x 14 finished the same as the living room, and has a screened porch. The kitchen is well arranged and has a screened porch also.

There are two large bedrooms, den and bathroom upstairs and the entire house is nicely decorated.

The house faces east on a lot 50 x 90 and can be bought on very reasonable terms. The price is right, less than you could build it for yourself, and was built by one of our best contractors.

To Cure Corns.

Soft corns can be quickly cured by putting talcum powder and a piece of tissue between toes. Do not use cotton, it is too heating, and moisture is what causes soft corns.—Good Housekeeping.

For a Wedding Present.

Among the bride's gifts was one she found especially useful. A friend, who had found the government bulletins very helpful, sent for all those of special interest to homemakers and bound them neatly in a decorated cover bearing the title: "Suggestions From Uncle Sam." All who saw the gift thought it was a very clever idea.—Good Housekeeping.

British Torpedoes.

The torpedoes used in the navy are of three diameters—18 inch, and 21 inch—and they are in length from 16 feet to 18 feet. As soon as a torpedo hits its mark it explodes automatically. Every torpedo fired in action represents an expenditure of from $3,000 to $4,000.
